

Gloucester Nursery School run their own Mini-Marathon!

Following the well renowned London Marathon, the children at Gloucester Nursery School ran their own mini-marathon on Monday, 27 April to raise money for the Brain Research Trust. The children either raised money by asking family and friends to sponsor them or by bringing in a personal donation.

The charity was chosen by one of our children Callie (Blue Parrot) whose uncle suffered an unexplained neurological event that nearly killed him three years ago. We are delighted to say he made a full recovery and he actually ran the London Marathon. Callie's Uncle came into Nursery and showed us his medal.

The children entered into the spirit of the event and had great fun running around the perimeter of the Nursery along with the adults. Each child received a medal when they completed the course.

A big thank to everyone who sponsored this event you raised an amazing £659.12! Well done.
